

his feet and knees and toes, I'll see his head, and ears and nose. And though it is one man we see, you swear it's "A" and I swear it's "B". So the point of view determines how we perceive what is before us. There are some senators who know this bill, to quote one of our philosophers, "stinks". They know it. They know they ought to vote against it. They have said that they would vote against it if it wasn't for the pressure. So they are trying to visualize it in their mind as being something other than what it is. There are some senators who genuinely have convinced themselves or deluded themselves into accepting the notion that the jobs are going to come rolling in when 775 is passed. There are others, such as myself, very few, who are strongly opposed to the bill, are not going to be pressured or threatened or intimidated into changing our position. There is only one, such as myself, who will do everything possible to cripple this bill and hurt it. I can't add an amendment to it and I know that. But I don't have to yield to Mike Harper and his bludgeonings. This is ConAgra's bill and a small amendment was added to enrich Senator DeCamp and Taggares. So, the form of the bill now should satisfy Mr. Harper, but it doesn't. In order to overcome his negative attitude toward the Legislature, I have been trying to give additional benefits to those business men. Throughout the day, people have said how bad the Legislature looks, but they give the wrong cause for it. The Legislature looks bad because of the way it is knuckling under to Mike Harper; that is what the public perceives and that is what the public sees as making the Legislature look bad. We are going to have an opportunity in a minute to liven things up and when I say, "liven things up", I mean liven them up. This right now is like the valley of the dry bones. But in a minute we are going to see the foot bone connect to the ankle bone, to the leg bone, to the knee bone, the hip bone, and right on up until we have a full fledged skeleton, then we are going to see what kind of sinew and flesh and other things we are going to attach to that skeleton.

PRESIDENT: Time is up.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: We are going to see if we come up with a walking, breathing, ConAgra-style Frankenstein. But I hope you will return the bill for this amendment.

PRESIDENT: You heard the closing. The question is the return of the bill. All those in favor vote aye, opposed vote nay. Record, Mr. Clerk, please.
